The following FRII courses are Diploma Courses.

001 - FOUNDATIONS OF FAITH. In-depth study of basic foundational truths in the Christian Faith. Each Lesson focuses on subjects such as Prayer, Water Baptism, Tithing and Jesus as Savior. Basic textbook is the Bible.

Foundations Of Faith will be applied toward the completion of all degree programs offered by FRII.

002 - OLD TESTAMENT SURVEY. "Old Testament Survey" introduces the Bible and discusses its translations and various versions.

It presents an overview of Biblical history, geography, and life in Bible times. The course provides an outline for each book of the Bible and teaches outlining skills for expanding these basic outlines into more detailed studies of God's Word.

003- GENESIS. The book of Genesis, together with the first few chapters of Exodus, describes the events which led to God's establishment of His theocracy with the people of Israel.

004 - DANIEL. Daniel, basic for prophetic studies, gives a chapter by chapter explanation and deals with the times and person of Daniel. Topics include God's sovereignty, angelic agents, "the times of the Gentiles," the Tribulation, and the on coming kingdom, all with special reference to Israel. Daniel records one of the most difficult times in Israel's history, deportation and exile from the Promised Land. Yet during even the darkest times, God's faithfulness was apparent. Dedicated to obeying God's Law, Daniel became an advisor to the Babylonian King Nebuchadnezzar and a messenger of God. In this course, students are guided through the historical and cultural backgrounds of the book while exploring possible interpretations of Daniel's prophecies.

005 - BOOK OF ISAIAH. An exegetical study of the Book of Isaiah. This course will not only survey the contents of the book, but also seek to develop the understanding and the skill of exegetical exposition.

006 - THE GOSPEL OF JOHN. complete in study guide, 48 pages. Leads the student in direct Bible study through this whole beloved Gospel. Questions and brief comments help make John meaningful and practical. Textbook is the Bible.

007 - THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES. Acts of the Apostles is the exciting narrative of the Church's formative years. Throughout the course, students examine the difficulties faced in the decades following Pentecost as the Church sought to formulate doctrine and send missionaries throughout the Roman Empire. Special emphasis is placed on the two leading characters, Peter and Paul.

008 - ROMANS. An exegetical-theological study of Paul's Epistle to the Romans. It involves the treatment of selected historical, grammatical, structural, and lexical data which illuminates the meaning of this important New Testament document. Special emphasis is given to the theological theme and overall argument of the Epistle. This course assumes the ability to make grammatical and textual critical evaluations.

009 - FIRST CORINTHIANS. It is an epistle from Paul, the apostle of the Gentiles, to the Church of Corinth, which he himself had planted, though there were some among them that now questioned his apostleship (1 Cor 9:1-2), and vilified his person and ministry.

010 - THE CREATED NATURE OF MAN. Explores the creation of the world and man. Discusses man's responsibility to the environment.

011 - SURVEY OF CHURCH HISTORY. This course is designed to provide the student with a basic introduction to the development of the Christian Church from its founding at Pentecost to the present day. Studies the Church's past and also the present that grew out of it. Enables the student to identify key names and events, recognize orthodox and heretical teachings, and factors that led to important developments.

012 - PRACTICAL MINISTRY. Discusses key strategies and concepts for unleashing the hidden potential for ministry in a congregation.

013 - HOMILETICS. Deals with the construction of individual parts of a sermon in a practical way. Treats both expository and topical sermons with attention to application and illustrations.

014 - DOCTRINE OF GOD. A unique contribution to the study of God and His attributes. Discusses in a fresh way subjects such as God's faithfulness, justice, mercy, grace, love, self-existence, infinitude; omniscience, wisdom and omnipotence.

015 - WOMEN OF THE BIBLE. This course concentrates on outstanding women in the Old and New Testament. A resume is given for each character which will give the student insight into each of these leaders. The main textbook for this course is the Bible.

016 - JESUS - A COMPREHENSIVE SURVEY. Attempts to answer the question "Who is Jesus Christ?" The course deals with topics such as the pre-existence of Christ, the incarnate Christ, and Christ as God.

017 - MINISTRY OF THE HOLY SPIRIT. The course focuses on the Holy Spirit as the third person of the Trinity and how he interacts with man.

019 - GALATIANS. Galatians deals with liberty versus legalism, and lights the path to genuine Christian freedom. Study guide and textbook help students in direct study of this important epistle.

020 - JAMES. The apostle recommends himself, and his fellow-sufferers, to the prayers of the Hebrew believers

021 - THE BOOK OF REVELATION. Course explores possible interpretations of the end-times. Using sound biblical exegesis with historical and contextual facts, students study the book afresh while gaining insights into Jesus

022 - KINGDOM LIVING. This course presents a comprehensive theology of Christian spirituality that can inform the life and witness of Christian believers. Course is Biblical, practical, and contemporary, accounting for and enabling spiritual formation and nurture in a post-modern, pluralistic, materialistic society. In addition, the course provides a theological foundation for a life of prayer that will empower and sustain the believer in life and ministry. Textbook combines the theology of the Christian life with vital daily issues of living and responsibilities. Instead of the "secret" for spiritual power, it outlines the pathway. Warns against following simple, deceptive formulas. Subjects include: temptation, spiritual gifts, money, legalism.

023 - OLD TESTAMENT AND PAULINE ETHICS. This course is designed to help the student understand correct ethical behaviour in terms of Biblical principles and commandments. Discusses Biblical ethics as set by Jesus, Old Testament prophets, and New Testament apostles.

024 - THE THEOLOGY OF GOD. Discusses God's purpose and plan for His role with man and in nature. The course leads the student on a Bible path that proves the will of God as He explains it through the Holy Scriptures. Beginning with the General Revelation of God, the student completes the course with the God of Redemption.

025 - EVANGELISM. When we examine the statistics in terms of fulfilling the Great Commission of Jesus Christ to take the Gospel of the Kingdom of God to every creature, we realise we are faced with a great task. This course is written to mobilise and equip believers to fulfil this great challenge. It is a tremendous task, but it is not impossible.

026 - THE GOSPEL OF MARK. The Gospel begins with the ministry of John the Baptist and ends with the announcement of the Resurrection, if the last 12 verses are not included.

027 - PHILIPPIANS. A simple letter to personal friends. It has no theological discussions and no rigid outline and no formal development. It is the most spontaneous unaffected of the Pauline Epistles. It is more epistolary than any of the others addressed to the Churches.

028 - EPHESIANS. None of the epistles which are ascribed to Paul have a stronger chain of evidence to their early and continued use than that which we know as the Epistle to the Ephesians

029 - 1 & 2 THESSALONIANS. These letters are especially important as a witness to the content of the earliest Gospel, on account of their date and their well-nigh unchallenged authenticity.

030 - NEW TESTAMENT SURVEY. A chronological, synthetic study of the four Gospel records, emphasising the time, place, circumstances, and persons involved in the events of our Lord's ministry, with a view to a fuller understanding of the significance of His words and works.

031 - THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT. The course is a consecutive exposition of Jesus' Sermon on the Mount in Matthew 5-7. The emphasis is upon the distinctive character that is expected of the Christian and upon the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ.

032 - PARABLES OF JESUS. Methods of interpreting Jesus' parables are surveyed and then an eclectic model drawing on the best insights (of each) is applied to each of the major narrative parables in the Gospels. Conclusions are drawn concerning the theology and significance of this portion of Jesus teaching.

033 -INTRODUCTION TO WORLD MISSIONS. God has one unified, global purpose for all He does. This course introduces the exciting biblical, historical, cultural, and strategic dimensions of His plan. It addresses key issues: the basis of and necessity for world missions, and the status of and plan for world missions. Students are introduced to the basics they need to pursue missionary training or to help lead their local Church in its global ministry.

034 - MEN OF THE NEW TESTAMENT. This course offers clear and interesting lessons on the great men of the New Testament. Special emphasis is placed on the twelve apostles and the apostle Paul. A resume has been prepared for each character and includes maps, outlines of events, the time when these events occurred, locations, and others who were involved. Scriptures verify the events.

035 - CHURCH LEADERSHIP AND ADMINISTRATION. A course designed to develop leadership potential in students and to give them a familiarity with the various elements of the administrative process, including: goal setting and achieving, organisation, delegation, human relations, group dynamics, supervision and the training of other leaders. Though the principles are universal, the focus of the course is the Christian organisation, particularly the local Church.

036 - BOOK OF PSALMS. An introduction to the Book of Psalms. Emphasis is on the principles involved in the exegesis of the hymnic literature and the application of these principles in selected portions. Close attention is given to the Psalms' various forms, their setting within the historical experience of Israel, and their application today within the Church.

037 - PASTORAL COUNSELING. The student will be provided with a complete analysis of the pastoral counselling - process. It will include the purpose, stages, and methods of changing behavioural patterns in counselling. It will also include a biblical look at the structure and organisation of the New Testament Church.

038 - SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY Course covers the essentials of all major areas of systematic, theology with the goal of orienting students to the basic materials necessary to understand and study God's Word, Focusing on the jam overarching theme of God's Lordship, the Course uses three "Lordship Attributes" (control, authority and presence) to organise the doctrines and help students remember and apply them to life.

039 - THE ANCIENT CHURCH. This course examines the history of the ancient Church in detail. Following a historical progression, the course covers the development of doctrine and introduces the student to the main figures in the Patristic Age.

040 - REFORMATION CHURCH HISTORY. This course traces the historic development of the Protestant Reformation from its background prior to the 16th century to its impact on the world and Church of today. The lives and teachings of the leading Reformers (Luther, Zwingli, Calvin and Knox) are examined in some detail, along with the course of the Reformation in various nations: Germany, England, Scotland, France and the Netherlands. In addition, both the rise of the major Protestant Movements - Lutheranism, Calvinism, Anabaptism and Puritanism - and the Roman Catholic and Remonstrance reactions are outlined.

041 - CHRISTIAN WORLDVIEW. How do you view reality? What is the source of your knowledge? Do you live what you believe? Such are the questions that a worldview answers. This course examines the nature and function of belief structures, and the value of developing and living a distinctly Christian life. The course develops a Christian worldview from a redemptive history model of Biblical theology, which is then clarified using the philosophical categories of metaphysics, epistemology, and axiology. Students will gain an understanding of modern and postmodern thought and how to critique them biblically, and are encouraged to develop and apply a Christian worldview to life and ministry.

042 - SPIRITUAL FORMATION: An investigation into the meaning of Biblical Christianity and its relationship to faith and practice, within contemporary cultural contexts. Special attention is given to the corporate dimensions of spirituality and spiritual formation as defined in the New Testament. Those historical and cultural factors which have led to the privatisation of Christianity are analysed and discussed. A paradigm of spiritual growth and maturity which focuses on the assembly rather than the individual is developed.

043 - APPROACHES TO APOLOGETICS. The course compares biblical, historical and recent approaches to defending faith in God, Christ and Scripture. It emphasises the contrast between Peter's method of reasoning among the Jews in Jerusalem (Acts 2) and Paul's among the Gentiles in Athens (Acts 17). It compares the still influential approaches of Augustine and Aquinas. However, the majority of the course examines six approaches of apologists who led in the resurgence of evangelicalism during the last half of the twentieth century. Each approach uses different starting points and forms of argument.

044 - DEITY OF CHRIST. In this course, students experience an in-depth study of Christ in an attempt to understand His person, nature, teachings and work. The study brings students face-to-face with the most important event in history as individuals unpack the Bible's teachings on Jesus and visit the decisions reached by the early Church councils, and explore the questions raised since then.

045 - MESSIANIC PROPHECY. An in-depth study of Messianic prophecy beginning in Genesis. Students explore the prophecies Jesus has fulfilled and those which will culminate in His future return.

046 - THE DOCTRINE OF SALVATION) This lecture is designed as a critical and historical overview of the plan and order of salvation, tracing each movement of the process from our regeneration to our final glorification. The course material provides both a Reformed theology of salvation and a fair treatment of differing views and objections, with evidence for both sides being carefully weighed.

047 - PENTATEUCH AND FORMER PROPHETS. Course introduces the content and theology of books Genesis through Kings. Identifies the foundational themes that emerge and traces them through the rest of the Bible. 050 - HEBREWS. Believers have long wrestled with the relationship between the old and new covenants. Humanity's inability to fulfil the Law clearly showed the need for forgiveness, and God's elaborate sacrificial system demonstrated sin's consequences. Yet how were Jewish believers to view Jesus? What were the implications of the Messiah being the Great High Priest? In this course, students study these and other theological questions as they probe Christ's death and resurrection.

051 - HISTORY OF MISSIONS. This course traces the historic development of the Christian world mission in chronological sequence from Pentecost to William Carey (1793). The modern period is developed along geographical lines: Asia,

Middle East, Africa, Latin America and Europe. The course closes with an attempt to evaluate the achievements of the past and the prospects for the future.

052 - CHRISTIAN ETHICS. An examination of theories of obligation and theories of value from a philosophical perspective. A Biblical theology of obligation and a Biblical theology of value are presented along with their implications for decision-making in personal life and Church life.

053 - THE DOCTRINE OF MAN AND SIN. This course is designed as a critical and historical overview of positions regarding the nature of mankind, both as the image of God and as a being corrupted by sin. The course presents both a distinctive Reformed anthropology and a fair treatment of differing views and objections, with evidence for both sides being carefully weighed.

054 - THE DOCTRINE OF THE TRINITY. This course presents the historic, classic and orthodox doctrine of the Holy Trinity. It follows a biblical, historical and dogmatic approach. It seeks to show how and why the classical doctrine/dogma emerged in the fourth century; what have been the major ways this dogma has been understood; and how crucial is this teaching for the right understanding of the relation of God to man and man to God.

055 - SOTERIOLOGY. Soteriology means different things to different people, but what does the Bible teach about salvation? In this course, we explore the Scriptures' teachings on soteriology in order to know: how one is saved and to understand the impact of Jesus' life, death, and resurrection.

059 - HISTORY OF CHRISTIANITY IN AMERICA. A study of the Church in America from its continental beginnings to the current day with emphasis on the numerous influences that have forged the current religious scene.

060 - THE BOOK OF JOB. Is God too weak to stop suffering? In a world full of sin, pain and hardship remain daily realities. Humanity has wrestled with the problems of suffering and often questioned the goodness of God. Students will examine Job's tumultuous life and the various responses to his suffering.

061 - EPISTLES OF JOHN. The primary concern of this brief commentary of these epistles is interpretation. There are basically two questions asked throughout the text. What does the passage say? What does it mean?

062 - THEOLOGY OF LIBERATION. A movement that sprang from late 20th-century Roman Catholicism and has found a particularly/welcoming environment in Latin America, liberation theology holds that the Church must stand on the side of the impoverished and the downtrodden, and that it must, if necessary, support the overthrow of social systems that contribute to their oppression.

063 - AFRICAN THEOLOGY AND RELIGION. With the broad expansion of Christianity in Africa, the African Church and African theology should be understood by us all. This course examines Christian theological formation in Africa against the background of African cultures and religions, and in light of its contemporary context. Also considered are how to study and understand Africa, and the factors that led to the debate on Christian theologizing in Africa. Throughout the course, descriptions and analyses of African religions are provided.

064 - ADVANCED CHURCH LEADERSHIP. In this course students discover how to maximise productivity in the various functions of Church leadership. The course examines the biblical foundation and practical functions of administrative leadership in Churches and Christian organisations, and focuses on developing successful, biblical attitudes and skills among team leaders. Students will analyse basic leadership principles from secular and evangelical sources, analysing them through a biblical/theological grid.

065 - CONTEMPORARY THEOLOGY. In this course we shall attempt to examine some of the major trends in contemporary thought. In order to set the background for contemporary theological and philosophical discourse, we begin with a brief philosophical overview. Of-the-major-tens. On developments in Western philosophy prior to Hegel Discussion then turns directly to Hegel, whose influence) extends throughout the modern period. Kierkegaard represents not only a reaction to Hegel, but is also the first of the existentialist oriented theologians. We consider. After Kierkegaard, the course turns to Barth, Bultmann, and Tillich. Parallel to these developments in theology was the development of analytic philosophy: Our emphasis will be the philosophy of the earlier and later Wittgenstein. The course then culminates in the God is Dead Theologies of Paul Van Burn and Thomas Altizer.

066 - AUGUSTINE AND MEDIEVAL THEOLOGY. Augustine is one of the most influential theologians in Church history. Students will study a comprehensive introduction to Augustine; his life, his works, and his legacy in the medieval Church. The course details his youth, conversion, literary works, and his battles against the day's emerging heresies. Surveying Augustine's life as a pastor, teacher, and writer, students are encouraged to evaluate his contribution to the development of medieval theology and to apply those contributions to their own lives and ministries.

067 - EVANGELICAL SPIRITUAL THEOLOGY. A comprehensive theology of Christian spirituality that can inform the life and witness of Christian believers. The Course is Biblical, practical, and contemporary, accounting for and enabling spiritual formation and nurture in a post-modern, pluralistic, materialistic society. Parallel passages found in Chronicles and Psalms are also considered and special note is taken of Iron Age discoveries in Palestine as they relate to the biblical text.

069 - THE DIVIDED MONARCHY. The history of Israel is traced from the beginning of Solomon's apostasy (I Kings 11) in about 950 B.C, to the Babylonian Captivity (II Kings 25) in 586 BC. 071 - MICAH. God's prophets were men of integrity. They stood up and spoke out when it was very unpopular to do so. As men with a message from God, they were preachers with a message that God-rejecting Israel and Judah did not want to hear. This course studies the men, their messages and their times.

072 - JEREMIAH. The Book of Jeremiah gives us not only a fuller account of the life and career of its author than do the books of the other prophets, but we also learn more about his own inner and personal life and feelings than we do of Isaiah or any other prophet.
